Description

Supay is a high-end Bolivian craft liqueur, made with Punta de Lanza and “Chicotillo” chili peppers from the town of Padilla, the birthplace of chili in Bolivia. Its unique recipe combines dehydrated Andean fruits such as golden berry, fig, and mocoichinchi, along with native herbs, high-altitude coffee, and criollo cacao. The result: a sensory explosion of spice, sweetness, acidity, and herbal notes.

Inspired by Andean cosmovision, its name pays tribute to the god of fire and the underworld, reflecting its mystical and powerful character.
